¹ Dual Diagnosis Capable: DDC Programs have been specifically modified to acknowledge and address the needs of clients/patients/consumers that have co-occurring disorders (COD). DDC Services are 'welcoming', do integrated screening and assessment, and facilitate access to the most appropriate service available. DDC programs also adapt service content and process specifically to meet the needs of persons with moderate levels of COD. Some programs accept higher levels of severity for COD and provide more specialized services. Where these 'enhanced' programs exist, they are included here in this Service Array Map.

Sub-groups of People with Co-occurring Disorders

Quadrant Model

A four-cell table used for identifying diagnostic subtypes of co-occurring disorder. The identification of subtypes is helpful for determining what service specializations need to be involved and when, and what level of care is appropriate. (K. Minkoff MD.)

Quadrant 4:

High Psychiatric Disorder Severity (Acute serious mental illness or other severe acute disturbance)
High Substance-Related Disorder Severity (Substance Dependence)

Quadrant 3:

Low Psychiatric Disorder Severity (Low to moderate MH Concerns)
High Substance-Related Disorder Severity (Substance Dependence)

Quadrant 2:

High Psychiatric Disorder Severity (Acute serious mental illness or other severe acute disturbance)
Low Substance-Related Disorder Severity (Substance Abuse)

Quadrant 1:

Low Psychiatric Disorder Severity (Low to moderate MH Concerns)
Low Substance-Related Disorder Severity (Substance Abuse)

Locus of Care by Problem Severity
